SCOTLAND

The Letters "W.S." signify membership of the Society of Writers to the Signet. In early times the Writers to the Signet were the officials who acted as Clerks in the Office of the King's Secretary: they were engaged in conducting the private correspondence of the Sovereign and in the preparation of public and private documents and, as the Signet (the King's own Seal), which was used for public as well as private matters, was the badge of the Secretary's Office, they became known at a very early date as "Wryttaris to the Signet" and were recognized under that name.
